STYLE MAKEOVER CLASS

*"Even if you're not ready to live at your full volume,
turn it up halfway,
and get there."*

- Bobby Berk

QUEER EYE

MORE THAN A MAKEOVER

While so many reality TV shows are about knocking people down, Queer Eye is all about building people up. The Fab Five use their own personal experiences – both positive and negative – to achieve a constructive and lasting impact for every single person, or heroes as the team prefers to call them, that they meet.

Join the Minifigure Fab Five in the LEGO® version of their original Atlanta loft. They're all here: fashion designer Tan France, culture expert Karamo Brown, food and wine specialist Antoni Porowski, interior designer Bobby Berk and grooming consultant Jonathan Van Ness, and they need your help to carry out their latest transformation. Enjoy!

HOLLYWOOD

"As a stylist, my goal is to help people be the best version of themselves."

- Tan France

TAN FRANCE

FASHION

Born in Doncaster, South Yorkshire, to Pakistani parents, Tan France started working in the US in 2008 and now lives in Salt Lake City, Utah.

As a clothes designer and fashion expert, Tan restores people's confidence in themselves by making them feel good about what they wear. More often than not, he completes every magical makeover with his signature French Tuck!

"Food can offer a moment of pure emotional pleasure in an otherwise hard and difficult world."

- Antoni Porowski

ANTONI POROWSKI

FOOD & WINE

As the son of Polish immigrants, Antoni grew up in Montreal, Canada, speaking Polish, English and French. After moving to the US, he studied psychology and theatre before turning his talents to cooking. Before joining the Fab Five and encouraging people to start cooking for themselves, he worked for Ted Allen, the food expert from the original Queer Eye that ran in the early 2000s.

KARAMO BROWN

CULTURE

Karamo Brown is the life coach and therapist of the group. He helps the show's heroes get to the core of understanding themselves, encouraging them to overcome the life-changing adversity they've faced. Born in Houston, Texas, of Jamaican and Cuban descent, Karamo now lives in Los Angeles with his two sons and is an active campaigner for the Black LGBT community.

"Life does not happen to you. Life responds to you."

- Karamo Brown

"When you're happy at home, it spills out into every other area of your life."

- Bobby Berk

BOBBY BERK

DESIGN

Bobby grew up in a small town in Missouri. In 2003, he moved to New York with just $100 in his pocket. He worked his way up to become creative director for a home furnishing company before launching his own online store. On the Netflix show Queer Eye, Bobby revamps the living spaces of the heroes to help them transform their lives.

"How you take care of yourself is how the world sees you."

- Jonathan Van Ness

JONATHAN VAN NESS

GROOMING

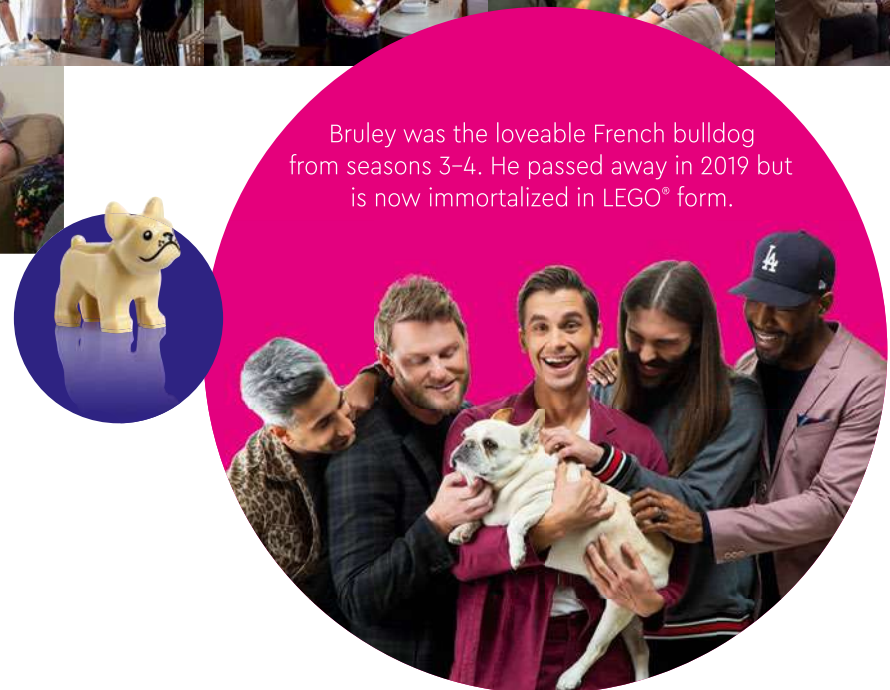

As the enthusiastic cheerleader of the Fab Five team, Jonathan encourages the show's heroes to find some real "me-time" via their own personalised grooming and self-care moments. When not restyling hair on Queer Eye, Jonathan is the effusive host on a series of award-winning podcasts and a big fan of gymnastics and figure skating – it's even rumoured Jonathan himself has mastered both the toe loop and axel jump on the ice!

EVERY GUEST IS A HERO

Every hero on Queer Eye has a special story to tell. Some have faced the traumas of losing a loved one, overcome a serious medical condition, or faced rejection by their family. Others have given so much to others and their local communities that they've had little time to look after themselves. They are all heroes to the Fab Five – and all deserving of a transformation that will make their lives easier, healthier and happier.

Bruley was the loveable French bulldog from seasons 3-4. He passed away in 2019 but is now immortalized in LEGO® form.

THIS WEEK'S GUEST

It wouldn't be a proper Queer Eye LEGO® set unless someone was getting a magical makeover! Meet Kathi Dooley, a dedicated teacher who played a special role in Jonathan's early life, supporting him with understanding and kindness. Now it's time for Jonathan and friends to repay the favour...

After

Bobby's cool design skills started at an early age ... with a LEGO® set!

MORE THAN A MAKEOVER

ATRUE COLLABORATION!

This Queer Eye LEGO® set was the result of a true Fab Five-style collaboration between the LEGO design team and the show's own design guru, Bobby Berk. For Bobby it quickly became a passion project: "LEGO played such an important part in my childhood. Clicking those little bricks together really sparked my imagination and creativity." Matthew Ashton, LEGO Vice President of Design, saw the collaboration as the perfect partnership: "We share so many values, like caring, learning, creativity and fun. While the Fab Five rebuild people's lives, we are on a mission to inspire kids and adults to get creative and be part of rebuilding a more positive world."

The first task was to decide exactly what the set should be. The team quickly zeroed in on the original loft setting from the first season and together defined the model's floor plan and layout. For Matthew it was vital they captured as many details as possible: "We wanted to replicate the furniture and include iconic details like the STYLE, TASTE, CLASS' sign. We also wanted to include a distinct zone for each of the guys and play up to each of the Fab Five's unique skills and contributions to the team."

"Collaborating with the LEGO team was an absolute dream come true! It would be any kid's dream and now my reality."

- Bobby Berk

CLICKING IT ALL TOGETHER

Just like it is for the Fab Five, teamwork is an essential part of developing a great LEGO® set. The other members of Matthew's LEGO Dream team were Senior Graphic Designer, Diego Sancho and Senior Element Designer, Ruth Kelly.

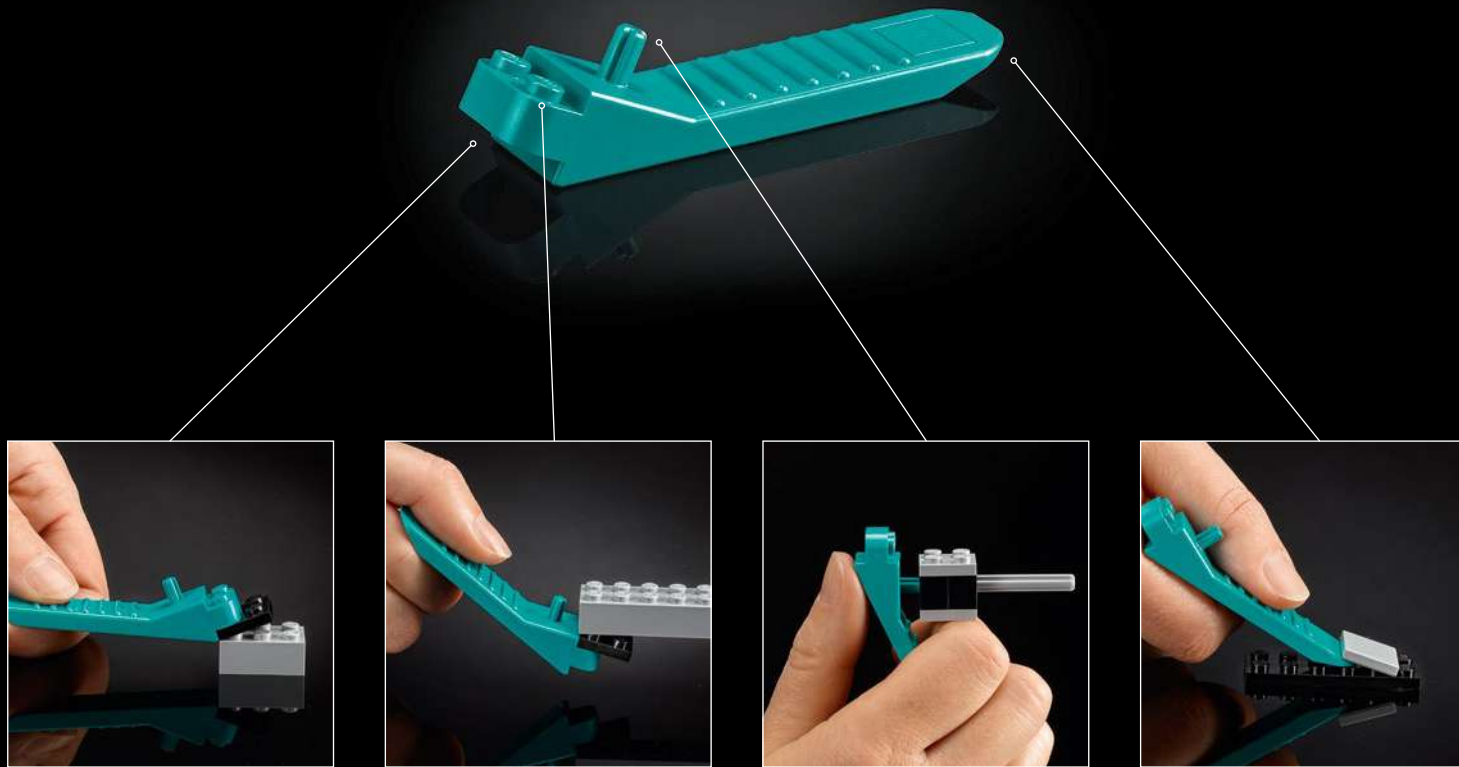

Diego had the important task of capturing the Fab 5's likeness in LEGO minifigure form, as well as designing all the decorations and stickers to bring the loft to life: "I got the opportunity to do my personal take on the artwork for the loft, to add some nice Easter Eggs for the fans! I created a 'Yaaas Queen' print for the kitchen to celebrate the fun LGBTQ+ saying, and if you look closely at the unique brush-stroke art you will see it says FAB 5!"

For Ruth the challenge was very different: "We simply didn't have any existing wigs with a coif quite as voluminous as Tan's, so it was my job to sculpt a new one. We decided to mould the wig in shimmering silver plastic to really 'elevate' Tan's look!"

Matthew is proud of the finished set and what the partnership stands for: "The Fab Five have had such a positive impact on so many peoples' lives. We need to take time to celebrate kindness and this collaboration has been the perfect way to showcase that."

"Ha! That little LEGO® wig is pure perfection! And much like my real hair once it is sprayed into place, it doesn't move an inch."

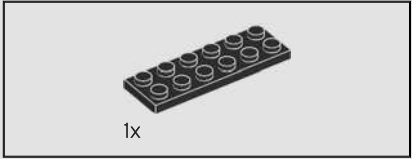

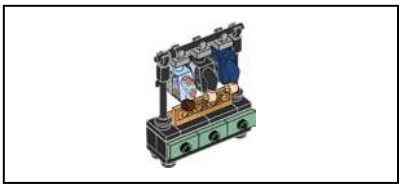

Jonathan Van Ness

"Could LEGO us be any cuter?!"

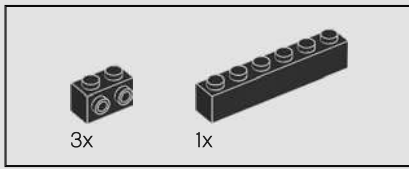

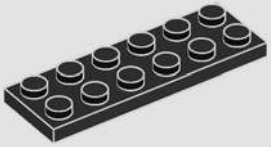

Antoni Porowski

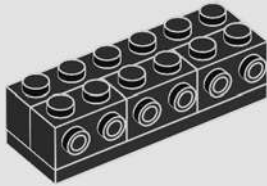

"It's so cute that they included Bruley! I miss that little Pupperoni!"
